The Professional Football Hall of Fame is located in Canton, Ohio, site of the National Football League’s organizational meeting on September 17, 1920. The NFL recognized Canton as the Hall of Fame site. Upon April 27, 1961, Canton area individuals, foundations, and companies donated almost $400,000 in cash and services to provide funds for the construction of the original two-building complex, which was dedicated on September 7, 1963.

The Hall of Fame celebrates its 50th Anniversary in 2013. Coinciding with the golden anniversary is the completion of a two-year, $27 million dollar expansion and renovation. As part of the project, the Ralph Wilson, Jr. Pro Football Research and Preservation Center, a state-of-the-art archive for the world’s largest collection of documents and artifacts, opened in August 2012.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame has undergone four expansions (1971, 1978, 1995, and 2012) over the years that have resulted in the museum growing from its original 19,000 square feet to today’s 118,000-square foot facility.

Each year fans travel from all 50 states in the U.S. and more than 60 foreign countries to visit the Hall of Fame. The museum welcomed its ninth millionth visitor during the summer of 2012. In addition, the Hall of Fame entertains tens of millions of fans through television broadcasts, traveling exhibits, an in-depth website, and numerous outreach events.

New members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame are elected annually by a 46-member Selection Committee, made up of media representatives from every league city, 13 at-large representatives, and a representative of the Pro Football Writers of America. Between four and seven new members are elected each year. An affirmative vote of approximately 80 percent is needed for election.

Any fan may nominate any eligible player or contributor simply by writing to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Players and coaches must have last played or coached at least five years before he is eligible. Contributors (administrators, owners, et al.) may be elected while they are still active.

The charter class of 17 enshinates was elected in 1963 and the honor roll now stands at 280 (164 living as of May 1, 2013) with the election of a seven-man class in 2013. That class consists of Larry Allen, Cris Carter, Curley Culp, Jonathan Ogden, Bill Parcells, Dave Robinson, and Warren Sapp.
